Yeah! I'm working on a PhD in English (Cultural and Critical Studies). I became ABD (all but dissertation) in the program, then decided to get my MLIS and become a librarian. But I'm still working on my dissertation.

Yes, that should be fine! Would you mind if the library's Collection as Data @ Pitt project referenced your project on our website and/or GitHub repository?

Thanks,
Tyrica

Cool! I didn't know you were working on your PhD! You'll have to tell me about that – in LIS or another program?

Please let me know if it is okay for me to leave the output Islandora items data on my github site as part of my portfolio.

Thank you,
Lisa Over

Thanks! I'm totally fine with Tyrica, Terry Kapral, or Mrs. Terry Kapral. Hopefully, the whole Ms/Mrs. thing will be easier this time next year, and I can just be called Dr. Terry Kapral! Here's to hoping!

Tyrica

Okay, sorry about that. I will make appropriate changes to the report and send it later today. I mention you as 'Tyrica Kapral' in the introduction so I will change that to 'Terry Kapral.' I then also mention you as 'Ms. Kapral' later in the introduction. Do you want me to change that to 'Terry Kapral' or 'Mrs. Kapral' or leave it as 'Ms. Kapral'?

Are okay with me addressing you as 'Tyrica' or should I also call you 'Terry Kapral' or Mrs. or Ms.?

Thank you,
Lisa Over

Oh, this is a small thing, but professionally, I go by "Terry Kapral" (maiden + surname).

Hi Lisa,

Thanks for sending the project and checking in! I did receive it and had a moment to start checking it out on Friday, but I didn't get to finish going through most of it. But what I've seen so far is looking amazing—great job!

It should be fine to send again via e-mail! 😊

All the best,
Tyrica

Hi Tyrica,

I sent you a zip file with the final report and files from the data mining project last week. It was a large file, and I want to make sure you got the email and were able to download the file.

I actually made a few changes since I sent the project to you. I noticed some of the topic names were too long for the graphs, and they did not wrap. I will send the updated files, but first, I wanted to make sure you could access the other one. Otherwise, I will send them a different way.

I have a website set up for the project so you could access the files that way, too. I think you should be able to right click and download files. The purpose of the website is to present the project to you in a less technical way than the report. You can reference either or both if you want.

This website is also part of my portfolio so I wanted to ask you if it was okay for me to include the output items file on the website - your islandora items data with the columns created from the project. It is there right now but no one has the link to the site yet. Let me know if that is okay to leave the data there. Here is a link to the site:

<https://lisaover.github.io/PittDataMining/>

It is still under construction – everything is there but I need to proof read it. Go ahead and access it, though.

Thank you,
Lisa Over
